Medball

My product is a beach ball that both medical professionals and their patients can use. They can be used as a stress toy, or they can be taken to a beach to be played with, not only to relieve stress, but to just have fun.

My design is one of simplicity, really only using 3 colors. I chose to make it like this because I think that these colors have to do with doctors the most. So when you see this logo, you think of medical professionals and things like that.

Medball

My price is going to be 4 dollars. I think that it is pretty affordable, and I chose this price because beach balls cost between .10 cents and a dollar to make.

Medball

Medical professionals are my main customerbase because I market to them the most. They want it because it is a good way to relieve stress, as well as it can be fun to take to the beach, as well as let their patients use.

Supply

My product is easy to make, since it is just a recolored beachball and I want there to be a lot of supply since it is so easy to make and mass produce. I also think that it is a really nice colorway, so many people would want to buy it.

Shifter

I think that either taste/preference or related goods would help/hinder my demand. If I had to choose I think that taste and preference would be my biggest shifter since it is just a recolored beach ball. If they like the colorway they will be more inclined to buy it, but if they don't they won't buy it.

BUY BUY BUY!

You should buy this product because its very fun to use, it also is good as a gift to give to a medical professional. Anyone can use this beach ball and it is a great conversation started.
